

DeckTech Players' Challenge

Challenge Coordinator Application - 2001

The DeckTech Players' Challenge (DPC) was formed in order to provide additional entertainment value to a group of SW: CCG players who feel they need a higher level of competition and strive to be the best that they can be. This tournament series became a reality because a group of like-minded players took the initiative and organized a higher-level group of events to fill the need of the competitive SW: CCG player. This structure provides a strong competition base and a better chance for players to test their skills against players of their own caliber on a more frequent time frame. This tournament series is the first building block in a line of more opportunities for players to travel and test their strengths against other players in different states and regions.

Hosting a DeckTech Players' Challenge can be very rewarding for the individual(s) that coordinates the event. Here are just a few of the benefits that being the Challenge Coordinator has.

- 1) The ability to promote your store or organization.
- 2) Free advertisement on DeckTech.net, the top SW: CCG website.
- 3) The ability to charge an entrance fee and have side events, which can turn your DPC into a large convention type event.
- 4) The ability to bring other companies' games into the event to bring in more profit by selling space to said companies.
- 5) The ability to run sealed deck events which can earn a profit for the Challenge Coordinator.
- 6) The ability to sell product from their backstock.

The Requirements for hosting a DPC event are as follows:

- 1) Use of a venue that can hold a minimum of 150 participants.
- 2) To complete a pre-event worksheet for DeckTech, Inc. which will include an itinerary of events. This worksheet must be submitted a minimum one month prior to the DPC.
- 3) To fill out a post DPC event feedback form, within one week, for future DPC events.
- 4) The Challenge Coordinator is responsible for pre-registering players prior to the event and holding a registration time the day of the event.
- 5) Approval from the DeckTech Players' Challenge Approval Board
